

Netart Process Book

Bryce Jollie, Fall 2022, ART 2602C

The image features a central text block on a black background. The text is in a bold, white, sans-serif font. On either side of the text are abstract, white-outlined shapes that resemble stylized faces or masks. These shapes have large, irregularly shaped eyes and a small, circular mouth. The background of these shapes is filled with a halftone dot pattern. The overall aesthetic is high-contrast and graphic.

Paragraphs and Randomization

Paragraphs

- He flew through the sky, up into the space and stars, where he was simply a bundle of thoughts and a scared, ecstatic mind. During the trip, time was immaterial. He continued on his journey through space, exploring the meaning of existence and dichotomy of life's constants: light and dark, pain and pleasure, happiness and sadness, life and death (salon.com).
- On the other hand, a person may “split” off from certain experiences or an entire part of their identity where the mind does not recognize its sense of self. Dissociation can last hours, days, weeks or even months. “A person might subjectively experience dissociation as floating outside the body, feeling numb to your emotions or feeling that things are not right and reality feels unreal somehow,” says Dr. Hunter (forbes.com)
- Scientists are still exploring the how and the why behind the connection between psychedelics and improved mental health. What is known is that just like common antidepressants called SSRIs, psilocybin attaches to receptors in the brain that trigger the release of serotonin, the “feel good” hormone.

Project reflection

This was by far my favorite project of the semester and I think the reason for that is because of the variety of things that were required for it. While working on it I never felt bored because it was always on to the next task. I struggled a bit in the beginning because I didn't really know how to translate what I was thinking into a semi-cohesive work. My favorite part of the project was making the different collages and it's definitely what I'm most proud of. I wasn't very excited to do the coding sections because of how repetitive it can be but it ended up not being as bad as I thought it would be it was very relaxing at times. I feel like through this project I have gained more confidence in my photoshop skills and this project also helped me get better with coding in HTML.
